Ladies of Harley*

I Most of you know that I took the Harley Rider's Course this year and got my motorcycle license. I bought the bike of my dreams and I thought...this is just the beginning. Since finding out that I must have hand surgery during the off season, I had to cut my practice short this riding season and I got to thinking. What are my plans for next riding season? So, I sat down and wrote out a bucket list for my Season Two of riding.

1. Take a ride on the bike outside of my safe neighborhood.
2. Get the bike over 45 mph.
3. Ride to the dealership.
4. Join an LSR ride.
5. Get the bike over 55 mph.
6. Join a Chapter ride.

8. Have enough miles to turn in for the mileage contest.
9. Go on a long country road ride with

Do you have a bucket list? How about a list of places and rides you look forward to or someday would like to do? I challenge you to make a list of things you want to accomplish next riding season. If you do make a list, then send it to me or Rain Nietzold and we would love to put it in the newsletter.
